

Statement from McDonald's

"We are steadfast in our commitment to serving safe, high-quality food at all times, supported by rigorous food safety, hygiene, and quality assurance protocols across our operations and supply chain. Our kitchens follow strict segregation practices for vegetarian and non-vegetarian food, with separate sections, dedicated equipment, and trained teams adhering to stringent hygiene standards. Our restaurant teams are also trained to engage with customers in a courteous and professional manner, and we remain fully committed to upholding these standards across all our operations."